Rev. George L. Cady, Formerly of
This City, May Break Up an Illinois County Fair.

ALLOWED GAMBLING DEVICES.

Mr. Cady Swore Out Complaints
and "Wheel of Fortune" Men
Were Fined $350.

Rev. George L. Cady, formerly pastor of the First Congregational church of this city, has become a terror to the gamblers of Henry county, Illinois, his new home. On account of a war that the pastor has started against wheels of fortune it is probable that the agricultural society may not hold another fair in the county.

Mr. Cady is pastor of a rich church at Geneseo. Many farmers in the vicinity of that town attended the Henry county fair and on every corner and every side were wheels of fortune. They were induced to "buck the tiger" and of course they were fleeced to a finish.

The matter reached the ears of the pastor, who by the way never was a special friend to lawbreakers, and he swore out warrants for five of the operators of the gambling machines. The fines the operators were obliged to pay footed up to $350.

The fair management is bitter in its denunciation of Mr. Cady as they claim that without the sale of gambling licenses it will be impossible to hold another fair. The preacher replies that if the fair cannot live except it license crime then the people of Henry county will gladly bid goodbye to the annual exhibition.

The matter is yet unsettled as the preacher has not played his best card as yet. He threatens to cause the arrest of the managers of the fair, leading men of the county, who sold the gambling permits. They are equally guilty with the men who beguiled the farmer out of his money and Mr. Cady declares they must be punished.

SOME CONSULAR PLACES.

Senator Burrows Thinks Michigan
Deserves More Pile.

Detroit Free Press: In the state department the Michigan senators have been recognized to the extent of the acceptance by Acting Secretary Day of nominations for the consular places now held down by Michigan men. Sarnia, Ont., which is the most important Canadian consulate from the Michigan standpoint, will go to J. Wight Giddings of Cadillac, vice Arthur M. Clark, of Lexington, and ex-Representative Chester W. Martin of Gratiot county, will succeed John Patton of Detroit as consul at Amherstburg.

Senator Burrows is anxious that Michigan should be recognized in some first class foreign consular post. He was much impressed with the recent bulletin of the state department, showing that Michigan has only about one-half of her proportion of consular places, with next to nothing in the desirable European field. The senator has decided to stay here and talk the matter over with the president, but will leave for home the latter part of the week, stopping long enough at Cleveland to make a speech for Senator Hanna at the widely-advertised meeting next Monday night.

Michigan Inventors.

Michigan inventors granted patents: George T. Berryhill, Alpena, horse shoe; Antoine B. Du Pont, Detroit, electric trolley device; Joseph Hanson, Crystal Falls, magazine bolt gun; Levi Harris, Kalamazoo, railway crossing gate; Alfred F. Morgan, Belding, dish pan; George K. Munro, jr., Detroit, motor car, Nazareth Puquette, Petersburg, fracture apparatus; William H. Sharp, Fremont, snap hook.

BETTER THAN CREAMERY.

Praise for the Dairy Butter Sold by the New Firm.

Crisp & Barnes, the new butter dealers next to THE NEWS office, did a large business today. Customers who tested their butter invariably remarked, "It is better than creamery." And its 5 cents cheaper too.

Usually Needs a Breadwinner.

A Frenchman was convicted of killing his mother-in-law. When asked if he had anything to say for himself before taking sentence, he said, "Nothing, excepting I lived with her 21 years and never did it before."

The temperature of the cucumber is a degree below that of the surrounding atmosphere. It is, therefore, apparent that the expression "cool as a cucumber" is scientifically correct.

THE WEATHER.

Continued fair and warm tonight and Friday.

GOOD STORY BUT UNTRUE.

The City Clerk Only Receives $50
Per Month.

The attorney who criticised the board of public works in last night's News for paying City Clerk Chaddock $10 per month a clerk of the water board is in error. The clerk receives only $50 per month but the members of the board regardless of the point raised by the attorney claim that they have the power to hire and pay for what help they require.

Following is a letter from the chairman of the city finance committee on the subject.

EDITOR EVENING NEWS: In last night's issue of your paper there appeared an article in regard to the salary of our city clerk. As chairman of the city finance committee I wish to correct it. Whoever gave you the information was surely laboring under a wild delusion, or if he was sane, he must surely have desired to create a public sensation for I positively know that the clerk receives only $50 per month for all services rendered as city clerk, and clerk of the water board.

JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT.

Secretary Hollis Failed to Appear in Court Today.

Today was set for the hearing before Justice Graves of the action brought by Mrs. R. H. Burke, against Secretary Hollis, of the Benton Harbor Electric Railway & Transit company, to collect a board bill of $48.86. The plaintiff appeared in court with her attorney A. P. Cady, and a judgment by default was entered by the court in her favor. Mr. Hollis did not appear.

POTATO THIEVES.

Twelve Bushels Stolen From A.
Vanderbeck.

A. Vanderbeck, living on Highland avenue, has suffered considerable annoyance and loss from thieves who persist in visiting his potato patch. Last evening the unwelcome visitors paid his premises a call and carried away two bushels of potatoes which Mr. Vanderbeck had dug yesterday and left in a sack in the field. In all about 12 bushels of potatoes have been taken from Mr. Vanderbeck's premises.

Mr. Vanderbeck is justifiably much perplexed and he declares that he will guard his property in the future with a shotgun.

ARE ENCOURAGED.

Prospect of Benton Harbor Getting
in the State Naval Militia.

The acquirement by the Michigan Naval militia of the battleship Yantic is hailed with joy by the Benton Harbor company of soldiers who are seeking admittance to the state naval forces.

The local company will begin drilling early next week. They have been advised by the secretary of the navy that all he could do to aid them to admittance to the state naval militia would cheerfully be done, and that as soon as they were given any encouragement from the state they should advise him and he would go to work.

AMONG THE CRIMINALS.

Fred Anderson, accused of stealing a bicycle owned by a man named Stewart, of Bainbridge township, was arraigned before Justice Cady this morning. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail. Anderson was arrested at Stevensville yesterday by Sheriff Ferguson. The wheel stolen by Anderson was worth $10. It was in default of a $15 fine and $7.50 costs that he was jailed. Cheaper to buy a wheel.

AZCARRAGA'S MINISTRY RESIGNS,

Leaving the Field in All Probability to the Liberals Under Senor Sagasta—Was the Expected Happening and Diplomats Are Not Surprised—Liberal Government Likely to Be a Good Thing for the Cuban Rebels, Had for Weyler.

Madrid, Sept. 30.—The Spanish cabinet has resigned. The queen has accepted the cabinet's resignation, but has asked General Azcarraga to continue in office until a solution of the crisis is found. Her majesty will summon the leaders of the various parties and the presidents of the chambers today to consult as to the situation. Senor Sagasta has been telegraphed for, and it is believed that the Liberal leader will be asked to form a cabinet. The ministry whose resignation has just been announced had General Marcello de Azcarraga for prime minister. United States Minister Woodford, the Duke of Tetuan and the president of the senate held a long conference yesterday, and General Woodford presented to General Azcarraga the members of the United States legation. Owing to the cabinet crisis the Cuban pour parlars have been postponed.

Not a Surprise at Washington.
Washington, Sept. 30.—The news of the Spanish cabinet crisis cannot be said to have caused surprise among the officials of the state department, or among the members of the diplomatic corps in Washington. As to what is to follow the resignation of the cabinet officials here are completely in the dark. Secretary Sherman does not believe that it will materially affect the relations of Spain either to the United States or to Cuba, which seems to indicate an expectation on his part that when the cabinet is reorganized it will be found to be still of a Conservative tendency. On the other hand high officials in the administration expect that a Liberal cabinet under the leadership of the veteran Sagasta will be erected on the ruins of the Azcarraga cabinet. If this should be the case the future is held to be full of promise for Cuba.

What the Diplomats Think.
Among the diplomatic officials the resignation of the Spanish cabinet excited the keenest interest and was the chief topic throughout the evening. The Spanish minister left at 4 o'clock for Lenox about an hour before the first word of the resignations had been received. The ministry, it was explained by diplomatic officials entirely familiar with the facts, is Conservative throughout. It was chosen after the assassination of Canovas and was regarded as a continuance of the Canovas regime. At the time of its selection it was considered temporary, as the queen regent was then at San Sebastian without that opportunity of full conference with leaders, including the leader of the opposition, which takes place on the formation of a new cabinet. For this reason the resignations are not entirely unexpected, although they were not considered imminent at this time.

Think Sagasta the Coming Man.
A strong impression prevails in diplomatic circles that Senor Sagasta, the eminent Liberal leader, will be called to form a cabinet. The Conservatives have a majority in the cortes at this time, so that the formation of a Sagasta cabinet would necessitate a dissolution of the cortes, and an appeal to the country. There is said to be little doubt that this would result in the return of a heavy Liberal majority. But whether it be Sagasta or another the change is felt to entail important considerations on the Cuban policy. The present ministry has been an aggressive one, supporting General Weyler and refusing to accept his resignation, although a strong element at Madrid has urged a more lenient policy. The choice of Sagasta would undoubtedly, it is said, lead to the recall of General Weyler, and a material modification of the aggressive policy in Cuba.

Mineralism As It Is in China.
Washington, Sept. 30.—United States Minister Chas. Denby, at Peking, writing to the state department under date of July 24, 1897, gives the substance of a report recently made by Mr. Brennan, a British consul, on trade in China. Brennan states that the currency of China is copper much more than silver, and that the relative value of gold and copper is an important factor in the consideration of trade problems. Brennan incloses a translation of an imperial decree in which it is shown that the price of copper cash has been enhanced over 20 per cent. at the same time that prices for ordinary articles of consumption are materially increased.

BIG POWER STATION IS DESTROYED

Fire So Hot That the Firemen Could Not Get Near Enough to Be Effective—Men Employed in the Building Had Barely
Time to Save Themselves—Ironton, O., Comes Near Burning Up—Blaze Will Cost Her Perhaps $400,000.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Fire broke out in the central power station of the Capital Traction company a few minutes before 11 o'clock last night, and in thirty minutes the magnificent six-story structure was doomed. The building occupies the entire block from Pennsylvania avenue to C street and from Thirteenth and One-Half street to Fourteenth. The blaze started on the southwest corner and despite the efforts of the entire fire department swept like wind through the great building. The heat was so intense that the men were driven from the adjoining streets. When it became evident that no efforts could save the power station the department turned its attention to the adjoining property, but the flames leaped across Fourteenth street on the east and attacked a row of three-story brick houses. So fearful was the heat that the firemen could not get within reach of the burning buildings. They were driven back foot by foot, until the streams from the hose pipes could not reach the fire.

Loss Is About a Million.
The entire fire department was on the scene, but so fierce was the conflagration that their efforts were futile. The power house was built four years ago, and besides containing the power plant of the Pennsylvania avenue lines of the Capital Traction company was occupied by dozens of offices. The walls began to fall by 12 o'clock and with the decreasing heat men were enabled to get to work on adjoining property. Several houses, however, had been gutted. It is impossible to state the loss. Approximately it will be about $400,000 on the building; about $200,000 on machinery and stored cars; while the losses sustained by tenants will amount to $200,000 more, making the total damage $1,000,000.

People Had to Jump for Life.
The fire started in the printing office of Harvey & Gettinger. It had soon gained such headway that it was evident nothing could be saved and the alarm was sounded to the large force of men at work in the building. Many of them were compelled to jump from the windows, so rapidly did the flames progress. Within half an hour after the fire started the entire building was enveloped and the flames seemed to soar over 100 feet into the air. The falling of the heavy six-story walls shook the buildings for squares around. Joyce's large carriage factory, situated directly across from the traction company's building on Fourteenth street is one of the structures partially destroyed. There has been no report of lives lost, but the firemen suffered severely from the intense heat.

SCORCHER FOR AN OHIO TOWN.

Locomotive Saves the City Pumping Station—Help from Other Places.
Ironton, O., Sept. 30.—This city was threatened with destruction last night. At 7 p. m. the saw mill of Newman & Spencer was discovered on fire. Before the fire department reached the scene the flames had extended to the lumber yards. The fire soon also wiped out the mills and lumber yards of the Penn Lumber company. The fire soon threatened the water works, and word was sent to Catlettsburg. Ashland and Portsmouth for relief. About twenty families were soon rendered homeless, two business blocks on Second and Third streets and the St. Joseph's church, parochial schools and parsonage. Columbia hall and the Belfontin iron works were burned.

At 10 o'clock the supply houses and coal bins adjoining the city water building were demolished by a Norfolk and Western locomotive crew, using a block and tackle, and the pumping station was saved. The opportune arrival of the Ashland (Ky.) department with several thousand feet of hose was a godsend to the city, and at 10:30 ten acres of blazing ruins were surrounded by lines of hose and the Catlettsburg, Ky., fire engine arrived by a special boat. This practically placed the fire under control, although the conflagration did not subside before morning. The large plant of Newman & Spanner, valued at $50,000, is insured for $20,000, but they carried no insurance on 8,000,000 feet of poplar lumber, every plank of which went up in smoke.

The Penn Lumber company's plant was valued at $35,000. They carried $17,500 insurance on the property and $4,500 on 6,000,000 million feet of lumber, which was totally destroyed. In addition to these plants the residences of Henry Spanner, E. Cole, Mrs. G. Kurtz, Mrs. Hall, Henry Horn, S. Mackay, and Newman & Spanner's large office and warehouse were burned, and at least twenty more residences were more or less damaged by flames. With the exception of Newman & Spanner's warehouse and S. Mackay's property, all were insured. The loss is estimated at from $300,000 to $400,000, with hardly half that amount of insurance. An area of three squares in length and two squares back from the river was entirely flame-swept. There were no casualties, but one man had an arm broken.

THE EVENING NEWS.

THIRD YEAR—NO. 618.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1897.

ONE CENT.

NOW TWO YEARS OLD.

The Evening News Celebrates the Second Anniversary of its Existence Today.

GROWTH OF A NEWSPAPER.

From the Least It Has Grown to the Greatest in Circulation and Advertising.

On September 30, 1895, two years ago today, the first issue of the new EVENING NEWS appeared. It was without circulation, and its advertising columns were but meagrely filled. In the two years it has grown in circulation until its list of daily subscribers is larger than the combined list of any two other dailies in the county. The paper in this section it has often been charged that its phenomenal success was the result of its price. Such, however, is not the fact, for since the reduction of its neighbors it has gained in circulation at a surprising rate. Wherever the paper comes in contact and comparison with its neighbors THE NEWS makes new friends because of its special features and the fact that it prints all the news and that usually in advance of its contemporaries. The most important feature of the success of the paper, however, is that it is the representative of no "ring" or corporation but that it is published for the people in the interests of the people.

During the two years THE NEWS has been compelled to enlarge its size twice and with the coming of prosperous times it will make improvements that will be more radical than the introduction of a 1 cent paper in a field that the old-priced sheets claimed to fully cover and own.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week will occur the millinery opening of Miller & Hummiston, at Martin's Palace of Trade, St. Joseph.

created such a world-wide talk. The entire city will be one blaze of colored lights, and, while their majesties are at the viewing point reviewing their subjects as they pass by, a grand exhibition of set fireworks will take place. No less than six bands will take part in this mammoth parade and the whole ground covered will be no less than two miles of splendor.

Besides all this the first floral parade ever seen in Michigan will also be a feature of the three days. Upwards of one hundred handsome horses and carriages, gorgeously bedecked in oceans of flowers, will participate.

LIGHTS AND A FIGHT.

Merry War Between the Council and Niles Board.

NILES, Sept. 30.—The board of public works and the common council are at loggerheads over the placing of electric lights. The council ordered the board to place lights in a certain place and the latter body refused. The council ordered City Attorney Lambert to investigate the legality of the board and he has just rendered an opinion that the board is illegal.

The board was appointed under an ordinance passed in August, 1895, under a charter regulating fourth class cities which states that all previous ordinances which are inconsistent with the charter shall be repealed. Acting under this authority, Mayor F. W. Richter at the next council meeting will probably remove the obnoxious board and will appoint a new one. The present board is composed of five leading citizens and if they are let out a hot time is expected.

BRAVE GIRL.

Miss Ellen Horn of New Buffalo Seizes a Burglar's Whiskers.

NEW BUFFALO, Sept. 30.—Last Monday night Miss Ellen Horn, daughter of John Horn, living about two and one-half miles south of this village while sleeping alone in the lower part of the house, awoke about midnight and hearing a noise up stairs got up and going to the stair door called but receiving no answer returned to bed but hearing the noise again she went to the door opening into the sitting room where she encountered a man just coming down stairs, with a lighted lamp in one hand and a sand bag in the other. He wanted to know where "Bill" was and threatened to kill her if she did not tell, at the same time striking her on the head. She grabbed his whiskers which proved false. He continued striking her with the sand bag but she was so close to him that it was not serious. She then broke away and started up stairs to call her people he rushing for the door and escaped.

A search was made but he could not be found.

Miss Horn now has in her possession a full set of whiskers, sand bag and a life size portrait of the fellow stowed away in her brains for future use. The only thing missed is a watch chain.

It is possible that the burglar made a mistake in the houses and that William Baker's was the one he intended to visit, as Mr. Baker had recently made a sale of some property.

Miss Horn was sand bagged by a burglar about one year ago who entered their residence in the night but secured nothing.

Made More Wheel Records.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—At the Crystal Palace yesterday A. E. Walters beat all bicycle records over distances from thirty-four to sixty-four miles. He covered the thirty-four-mile course in 1:05:10 1-5 and the sixty-four-mile course in 2:07:04 4-5.

St. Paul, Sept. 30.—Receivers Seymour and Lightner of the Bank of Minnesota, whose failure last December precipitated so great a financial crisis, have made their first report and asked orders to pay a 10 per cent. dividend. There has already been paid $453,834.41. After this payment the unpaid indebtedness will still be $1,400,000, for the payment of which there are bonds and stock liability assets of $1,400,000.

Paine's Celery Compound Restores Health to Col. Frank G. Noyes.

There is a foolish, harmful notion among many elderly persons about the "inevitable feebleness of old age."

They make a serious mistake in thinking their rheumatism or their failure in strength an effect of old age instead of the sluggish circulation, impure blood and disordered nerves that are so quickly remedied by Paine's celery compound.

Col. Frank G. Noyes of Nashua, N. H., who was department commander G. A. R. in 1890, made no such mistake, and today he is a vigorous man of 60. He gives his carefully considered estimate of Paine's celery compound in the following letter:

Gentlemen—Several months ago a friend gave me a bottle of Paine's celery compound for my personal use. I was not then, and had not for some time prior, been in my customary vigor. The cause may have been that I had reached and was passing the climacteric of man's life, which comes frequently after one arrives at the age of 60. At all events, I felt stronger and more vigorous after I had used for a while this compound. Consequently I have taken it regularly since then, and have consumed six or eight bottles of it. I am glad to say that, so far as I can judge, I am as well as ever, strong and vigorous.

Sincerely, Frank G. Noyes.

The disheartening part of every vacation is that its good effects do not last.

The improved appetite and the encouraging gain in weight disappear as rapidly as the glow and tan from the cheeks. A vacation, with its change of scene and air, is undoubtedly a good thing, but it won't cure rheumatism, neuralgia, heart trouble, dyspepsia, nor any of those diseases that are deeply seated in the system.

Paine's celery compound will do what no mere rest or vacation can do.

A thoroughly worn-out, "unstrung" nervous condition, brought on by months, if not years, of heedless living depends for renewed health on purified blood, regulated nerves, sound sleep and perfect assimilation of food—this is what Paine's celery compound never fails to do.

Cities and towns are full of men and women, back from their vacations, who feel even more discouraged than when they set out, because they find themselves slipping back to their old, sleepless, languid, nervous condition. Sitting in the sun is a good thing as far as it goes; but there is a world-wide difference between the sun-burned counterfeited appearance of health and the real purifying of the blood, and the genuine strengthening of the nerves that invariably follows the use of Paine's celery compound.

If you have thus far failed to get rid of nervousness, sleeplessness, heart palpitation, or impure blood, you have not yet used Paine's celery compound. What this greatest of all modern remedies has done may be learned from any physician of good standing, or from detailed accounts in the most authoritative medical journals of the country.

No remedy in the world ever had such an army of enthusiastic friends as Paine's celery compound, because no remedy ever made so many people well.

The Actual Circulation

The EVENING NEWS (barring copies for free distribution) is more than double

same is true or nearly so with its advertising.

It usually takes two years for a newspaper to establish itself upon a business basis but before the end of the first year THE EVENING NEWS had reached the plane that the newspaper seeks, that of a profit over the expenditures. The first year of the life of the paper was marked by a fire that destroyed the plant and everything pertaining to the paper with the exception of the subscription lists. The hindrance to business caused by this misfortune was soon overcome and at the close of the second year THE EVENING NEWS has more readers, more advertisers and more friends than ever before.

The paper is now printed in a new building owned by the proprietors of THE NEWS, that was built expressly for newspaper purposes. The ground floor, 25x70 feet, is used as a business office and composing room, while the first newspaper press and folder, the engine and large boiler are located in the basement. The second story of the building is occupied by the Young Men's Christian association, while a slice off of the front of the basement is used as a barber shop. THE NEWS is the only daily paper in the county that owns its own building.

The success of THE EVENING NEWS is largely due to the fact that there was a field here for such a paper. The first issue was published at a time when the combined effort, if not the subsidized effort, of the other papers here, was bitterly against the rights of the citizens and in favor of a grasping corporation. The old papers preached loudly that the city ought to pay for the city streets. THE NEWS took the side of the people, as any unprejudiced or uncorrupt paper would, and the citizens were now law to appreciate the good work done. What length the pass-bribed editors would have gone in defending a contract-breaking corporation, but for the appearance of THE EVENING NEWS, is not known. It can, however, be guessed.

BIG STREET FAIR.

Kalamazoo Will Give a Big Attraction Next Month.

The Kalamazoo Free Street Fair October 12, 13 and 14 will be the biggest thing that ever happened in this part of Michigan. Never before have such elaborate and extensive preparations been made for a celebration by the people of Kalamazoo city and county. Besides everything incident to an ordinary county fair, there will be many sensational, brilliant and attractive features, including the dazzling Mardi Gras and carnival. This feature will be the attraction on the first two nights of the fair when Kalamazoo will be one blaze of light and glory.

The coronation of the king and queen will take place on the evening of October 12, and will of itself be a grand sight, as the crowning will take place amid gorgeous robes, silver service and pomp unequalled. Their majesties will at once issue an edict proclaiming their wishes, calling for all loyal subjects to fall in line on the evening of October 13 and follow their beautiful chariot, "Kalamazoo, Michigan's brightest star," through the grand illuminated carnival pageant. They will then appoint their maids of honor, pages, guards, etc. The royal car will indeed be a wonder, 40 feet in length, towering skyward, one mass of gilding, scrolling and splendor, bedecked with jewels and occupied by their majesties, maids, guards and pages, all richly robed in costumes representing altogether hundreds of dollars, brilliantly illuminated with colored lights, caissons and effects, and followed by miles of almost equally gorgeous chariots. Grand indeed will be the sight; one never before attempted in this state, and that can only be conceived by those who have witnessed the wonderful productions of St. Louis, New Orleans or in old Italy. It is continually expected that the parades on these two nights will equal if not excel those given last fall in Minneapolis, Minn., and which

THURSDAY, SEPT. 30, 1897.

TWO YEARS OLD.

Today THE EVENING NEWS begins the third year of its existence. In the newspaper world it is a common rule that the newspaper that lives two years has passed the experimental stage and has become established. Its possibilities for long future years are then greater than that of the old newspaper. It is needless to say that THE EVENING NEWS has passed the experimental stage and is true to the old rule. Its columns bulging with advertising and its presence everywhere in the county where newspapers are read there is need of no further evidence.

THE EVENING NEWS has met with phenomenal success and stands first in circulation and advertising among its rivals and imitators. Nothing so conclusively proves this fact to the outsider as the bitter abuse it has continually received from the old papers with which it came in competition. This abuse is an acknowledgment of the superiority of THE EVENING NEWS as a newspaper and a confession that misrepresentation is the only weapon that might stay the growth of THE NEWS. All these attacks have had the effect of the boomerang. The memory of the fire is still fresh in the minds of the people. The dirty and unscrupulous though unsuccessful endeavor to beat THE NEWS out of its insurance money is still remembered. In the face of affidavits from all the officers of the democratic campaign committee these paid-for editors, feeders on political corruption funds, asserted that THE NEWS tried to sell its influence to the silver cause for $200. But out of every attack of persecution and lying THE NEWS has emerged stronger in the regard and the confidence of the people.

THE EVENING NEWS starts out on the third year with brighter prospects than ever before. Its aim will be not to abuse the confidence of the people that it enjoys but to ever increase that confidence.

THIS is the way the Dowagiac News rejoices over the fact that the Postal telegraph will operate along the line of the Benton Harbor railroad: Last night the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railroad, the new line just completed from Benton Harbor to Buchanan, let the contract for their telegraph service to the Postal company, thereby giving the Western Union a black eye. It is reported that the Postal company is slowly but surely eating a hole into their monopolistic rival, large enough to crawl into and do considerable damage on the inside. The business world seems to take rather kindly to the infant company, hoping that the rivalry will result in a merry war, resulting in reduced rates.

At an expense of $300 W. F. Howard, of Pipestone township, is constructing a pond where he will propagate brook trout. Crooked brook, a sparkling stream of spring water, runs through Mr. Howard's farm. He is now building a dam across the brook and digging a basin six feet deep, four rods long and a rod wide. Next February he will plant 20,000 brook trout in the pond, and hopes by this means to provide for himself and friends considerable sport.

POLLY'S DANDER UP.

A bridal couple who put in several days recently taking in the sights of the capital enjoyed themselves immensely until the day preceding their departure. It then occurred to the bride that she had not called upon "dear Fanny," who had been her chum during her days at the seminary. Now, Fanny was still enjoying single blessedness, and this may have had something to do with the anxiety of the bride to call upon her maiden chum. George demurred feebly, but at last consented to pay a formal call. The bride dressed herself in a fetching gown and placed upon her saucy head a Parisian dream in the way of a hat. The hat was one of those indescribable creations of the milliner's art, a mass of flowers with a bird or two partially concealed in the foliage, so to speak.

The pair went gayly forth and in a hotel coupe were soon at the door of Fanny's residence. Their cards were taken and they were ushered into the drawing room. While awaiting the coming of her friend the bride's attention was attracted to a large cage containing a splendid parrot. She chirruped cooingly to the imprisoned bird and wished she might take him out of his cage and caress him. George remarked that he looked tame enough and suggested the opening of the door of the cage. Suiting action to the word, he opened the door and the released bird calmly walked forth and strutted about, blinking his beady eyes knowingly. The bride, with usual calls of "Poll, pretty Poll!" coaxed the bird toward her, and poll proceeded to climb up the rounds of the chair upon which the lady was sitting and perched herself upon the arm of the chair. The parrot uttered guttural cries of "Polly, Polly," this word seemingly comprising her entire vocabulary.

The bird accepted the caresses, and apparently all was serene, but without an instant's warning she uttered a scream of rage and flew at the lady's headgear, alighting fairly thereon, and then for a few minutes the air was filled with flying feathers and bits of flowers, while the atmosphere was fractured by screams from the bride and discordant cries from the parrot. George attempted to come to the rescue and had his face badly scratched for his pains. The lady finally shook the bird loose from the flower garden she was wearing upon her hat and made one wild dash for the front door, followed closely by the bridegroom. Once on the pavement, they became somewhat composed and determined to return to their hotel to repair damages. They did not tarry long enough to see "dear Fanny."

The sudden wrath of the bird was evidently caused, George thought upon reflection during calmer moments, by the fact that amid the flowers in his wife's hat there nestled a stuffed Carolina parakeet, which the parrot took to be a real live rival and proceeded forthwith to demolish. The bride is now a thorough convert to the teachings of the Audubon society.—Washington Post.

WHEN EXPERTS DIFFER

What Will the Jury in the Luetgert Wife-Murder Case Be Likely to Decide?

DORSEY'S BONEOLOGY ASSAILED.

What He Claimed To Be from a Woman Dr. Allport Is Positive Is from a Hog—Actual Experiments Show That the Part of the Bone Produced by the State Is Destroyed in the Vat—Prof. Long's Important and Interesting Testimony.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Hog or human? This is the issue in the Luetgert case at present. The defense proved yesterday that the bone which Dr. Dorsey, the osteologist of the Columbian museum, declared was the femur of a human being, of a woman, and of a woman delicate in physical structure, as was Mrs. Luetgert, is nothing but the bone of a hog. It came from a hog of delicate organization, so said the expert for the defense, but it was nothing but hog, for all that. The femur was rather small for the usual run of hogs, but this was a small-boned hog, and there was no doubt of the origin of the bone. The witness who declared all this for the defense was Dr. W. H. Allport, professor of descriptive and comparative anatomy in the Northwestern University.

Was a Very Positive Witness. He declared in the most positive manner that the femur was that of a hog, and that there was no chance of his being mistaken in the matter. Dr. Dorsey, who declared for the state that the femur was that of a woman, was on the stand, and his face flushed when the expert for the defense declared that the bone came from a hog. He will take the stand when the time comes for the state to offer its evidence in rebuttal and insist to the jury that the femur is not that of a hog but of a human being, of a woman, and of a woman of delicate physical organization. The declaration of Allport clearly defines the issue between himself and Dorsey. They are the respective leading experts of the defense and prosecution. Both pride themselves upon their reputations, and a battle royal will be the result.

Draws Pictures of the Bones. Dr. Allport drew pictures of what he said represented the human femur and the hog's femur, and explained to the jury the difference between them. The difference was principally in the socket of the hip joint, according to the witness. He declared that the knob, or joint, end of the femur in evidence was much smaller than that of the average person, and that undoubtedly the bone was the femur of a small-boned hog. Allport will be cross-examined after the has testified further concerning metacarpal, sesamoid and temporal bones. Previous to Allport's testimony Professor J. A. Welsner gave evidence in support of Dr. Riese's testimony in connection with the experiments with human bodies made in the vats in the Luetgert factory early in the present month. His testimony was of a corroborative character.

Cross-Examination of Riese. Dr. Riese was cross-examined and the state got little satisfaction from him. He admitted that one little bone of the defense might have been subjected to the action of a solution of potash, but as to the others declared his belief that they had never been. He believed as he did as the result of a hundred or so experiments he had made to ascertain facts of this kind. He showed that in his actual experiments—not by inference like the alleged boiling of Mrs. Luetgert's body—the very parts of the bones that the state introduced were the parts that were dissolved—the ends, the articulations. The bone he admitted might have been subjected to a potash solution was a metacarpal bone, but he said it was not such a solution as the Luetgert vat contained. The state has a rib with the articulation complete, and this bone Riese declared had never been in such a solution.

NO HUMAN BLOOD FOUND.

Prof. Long Makes Holes in a Couple of the Claims of the Prosecution.

Professor John H. Long, of the Northwestern university, took the stand. His silvered hair, well trimmed beard, and learned countenance made him a striking figure. He had assisted at the dissolution of two human corpses in the Luetgert vat. His testimony at first was corroborative of that of Dr. Riese. He was asked: "What was the character of the liquid which was left after that experiment?" For reply the expert stepped to the lawyers' table. He picked up a large bottle containing a light colored fluid with a slight foam upon the top of it. He stepped back to the stand. "This," he said, "holding aloft the bottle, 'contains a specimen of the liquid which was taken from the vat after the body had been immersed for three and one-half hours.'"

The expert took up another of those long necked bottles. "This bottle," he said, "contains the liquid which was taken from the vat on Sunday morning after the hose had been turned into the vat for ten hours." Other bottles were exhibited, containing liquid taken at various stages of the experiment. All were of the same light color. They looked like weak tea, as Dr. Riese had stated. The solution was totally different in color, accordingly, from the brownish red liquid which the police officers had taken from the factory vat. "State whether you believe such a liquid as you received from Professor Delafontaine could have come from the destruction of a human body." The answer was an emphatic "No."

After Professor Long had given the jury a long and technical explanation of spectrums obtained from the state's vat fluid he was asked to explain the making of soft soap, which he did and stated that as the result of an incomplete action of the alkali "There would be a mass of soft soap and divided fats." The attorney was citing circumstances which the defense claims are parallel to those attending Luetgert's alleged unsuccessful attempt to make soft soap the night of May 1. The witness added that the resulting liquid would resemble that produced by the state.

Mrs. Luetgert's false teeth. Professor Long said the potash itself and other ingredients contain aluminum. It would be possible to make six such aluminum plates from 378 pounds of potash. He said it would be--was--impossible to bring the liquid in the vat to a boiling point at Luetgert's factory.

The court leaned toward and took a hand in the examination. He intimated that he believed after the connecting pipes became well heated it would be possible to reach at least the boiling point. "Is your honor testifying in this case?" demanded Attorney Vincent, while the spectators laughed. "No, I am not," replied the court, with considerable spirit. "I am talking to you." The lawyer took exception to the court's remark, but was overruled. The next strong point made was when the professor asserted that the liquid in which the defense had actually boiled a human body showed no traces of alkaline hematin, which would have indicated the presence of human blood. Professor Delafontaine had sworn for the state that he had found traces of alkaline hematin in the original vat solution. The defense wanted to prove this by the spectroscopic, but the judge would not permit it to be done.

DOING BUSINESS IN EUROPE.

Americans Building Engines for Use in London and Dublin.

Milwaukee, Sept. 30.—The Reliance works of the E. P. Allis company, of this city, have closed contracts for foreign orders aggregating $500,000. Twenty-one engines of an average horsepower of 1,200 each are to be built for foreign trade. Six engines of 1,500 horsepower each, are being built for the Central London Underground railway, a new electric road in London. Six have been ordered for Dublin tramways, which will furnish 1,000 horsepower each to propel electric cars over the old tramway.

Three engines of 1,500 horsepower will enable the Barcelona authorities to put electric cars on their tramways. Two duplicate engines will be sent to Madrid, Spain, for the tramways there. From Sydney, New South Wales, has come an order for four engines of 1,500 horsepower each, for the Sydney tramways.

BOSTON STILL IN THE LEAD.

Only Has to Win Her Brooklyn Series to Fly the Pennant.

Brooklyn, Sept. 30.—The Boston and Brooklyn began a series of three games at Eastern park yesterday afternoon on which much depends for both teams. Winning all the games will give Boston the championship, no matter what Baltimore does. A majority of the games for Brooklyn means a clinch on the only place still left in the first division—sixth. The management had planned to handle a large crowd, but the cranks failed to materialize, and when the game began only about 3,600 persons were present, and they saw the "Bean Eaters" capture the game with ease.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—League base ball scores yesterday were: At Brooklyn—Boston 12, Brooklyn 4; at Baltimore—Washington 5, Baltimore 6; at New York—Philadelphia 1, New York 7.

FINE COMPLIMENT

Was Last Night's Entertainment to the Benton Harbor College.

The entertainment at Conkey's opera house last evening went far toward recommending the elocutionary and musical departments of the Benton Harbor college. It demonstrated that these departments are in charge of talented and gifted instructors and that the pupils are receiving the best of instruction.

The entertainment was given by Miss Myrtle Moss Mericle, the accomplished teacher of elocution, and Mrs. F. A. Webb and Miss Fannie J. Collins, respectively vocal and piano instructors in the musical department. It was a rare treat to devotees of the fine art and a more pleased or delighted audience rarely assembles.

The program opened with a piano solo, a composition of Leschetitzky's, executed by Miss Collins. She was greeted with the college yell from the throats of 200 students who occupied a section on the north side of the room. Her work was a perfect portrayal of the author's conception and elicited an ovation from the audience.

She was followed by Mrs. Webb with a vocal number, Parla by Ardit, and the sweet, tenderly modulated voice, hushed the auditors into a silence that spoke in appreciation of the effect more than words could have expressed. When she returned to bow acknowledgment to the encore a beautiful bouquet of roses was handed her.

Miss Mericle then appeared. Her popularity was attested by the enthusiastic applause accompanying her appearance. She gave the reading, "Helene Thamlie," by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, and before she had finished the pathetic story, so accurately acted out, had plunged many in tears. She also was the recipient of flowers.

The Gypsy Song by Miss Helen Webb, attired in Gypsy costume, received its share of applause. Her reappearance was invited so enthusiastically that she could not decline and the audience heard her sing again.

To the close of the program the audience maintained its enthusiasm and reluctantly left the hall when the entertainment was concluded.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

AT THE COURT HOUSE.

The circuit court calendar for the October term was delivered to the printers by the clerk today. There are 108 cases, 27 of which are criminal and the remainder law and chancery. The criminal cases have already been published by THE NEWS as well as the most important of the other cases.

The indigent soldiers' commission, composed of W. F. Bullard of Niles, Claus Schultze, of New Buffalo and A. H. Rowe, of Benton Harbor, met this morning at 11 o'clock in the office of the probate judge. The auditing of bills and the consideration of matters pertaining to the welfare of destitute war veterans is occupying the time of the commission.

ST. JOSEPH.

James H. Matheny, secretary of the Illinois Bar association at Springfield, was here yesterday the guest of Lawyer H. W. Davis.

A verdict of $25 for the defendant was rendered by a jury in Justice St. Clair's court yesterday in the civil action brought by Joseph Vallinsky, a peddler, against Eaton Johnson to collect a debt.

The schooner Alert, which became water logged eight miles off this port two weeks ago, and off of which Charles and Arthur Stone, her crew, were rescued by the life saving crew, cleared last night for Michigan city. She was leaking badly and there is some doubt of her being able to reach that port.

J. Hatch, of Lansing, employed in the office of Auditor General Dix, is in the city the guest of his brother, E. N. Hatch.

The farm residence of John Luckner, several miles out on Lincoln avenue, was burned to the ground yesterday afternoon. There was only a small insurance on the property. There is no theory as to how the fire originated. None of the family were at home when the flames broke out, Mrs. Luckner being in the field with her husband. She discovered the fire while returning home. The only articles of furniture saved were a stove and several pictures. Mr. Luckner is a brother of Fred Luckner, a meat dealer of this city.

UNFAITHFULNESS.

The Charge Made by Charles Rutledge Against His Wife.

Charles S. Rutledge, of St. Joseph, a jeweler by occupation, has filed a bill in the circuit court asking that his marriage with Millie M. Rutledge be dissolved. They were married June 28, 1895. Since then, the complainant alleges, he has suffered untold abuse and injury. He charges his wife with being a woman of great austerity of temper and of being unwarrantably jealous of him; that she accused him of unfaithfulness and her conduct tended to disgrace him and ruin his business. It is further charged against the wife that she has been living in adultery with a man in the eastern part of the state.

CLOSED THE ROOM.

Does the Spirit of Washington Still Haunt Through the Old Mansion?

It was customary in the family of George Washington to shut up unused for two years a room in which death had occurred, says an exchange. So, after the death of the first president in the stately chamber with the great four poster bed which is still shown to visitors, Martha Washington, with her lonely heart, nightly climbed the attic stairs to lie in a low ceiled, sloping roofed room with one window—a room intolerably hot in summer, with little or no means of securing a draft except by a triangular opening where the lower corner of the door had been cut off to make room for the passage of the cat. Martha Washington died before the two year period had ended.

If she had occupied the death chamber, would she have seen the ghost of her dead husband? They say that the stalwart, stately figure of the brave general stalks through the passage with martial tread and clank of astral sword in spectral scabbard.

Again and again it has happened that people detained at Mount Vernon on the business of the Mount Vernon association have declared, on "waking from a sleepless night," that they had heard the ghost's sword and stride and seen its tall, commanding figure, dressed in the old uniform that in life it wore.

No lights are permitted in the old house, for fear of fire, except during the meeting of the regents, and then only candles. Ghosts are said to love dark or ill lighted houses.

Most Wonderful Cave In the World.

The most wonderful cave in the world is in the island of Tonga, in the south Pacific. Byron called it "a chapel of the seas." It is formed in a rock that is almost surrounded by the ocean. This rock is about 60 feet high and broad proportionately.

Many years ago a boy, the son of a native chief, was chasing a huge turtle, when his game seemed to sink into the rock. The lad watched and waited until the tide fell, disclosing a small opening in the rock about six feet under low water mark.

Diving boldly, the young hunter entered the aperture, and, to his surprise, came to the surface inside the rock. The rock was hollow, and its interior was found afterward, when the natives explored it with torches, to contain many beautiful stalactites.

When attacked and followed by enemies, the natives, who know the secret, leave their canoes, plunge into the water and disappear. Their foes linger, astonished at their disappearance, for no person not acquainted with it would suspect that the rock was hollow.—London Telegraph.

Rev. George L. Cady, Formerly of
This City, May Break Up an
Illinois County Fair.

ALLOWED GAMBLING DEVICES.

Mr. Cady Swore Out Complaints
and "Wheel of Fortune" Men
Were Fined $350.

Rev. George L. Cady, formerly pastor of the First Congregational church of this city, has become a terror to the gamblers of Henry county, Illinois, his new home. On account of a war that the pastor has started against wheels of fortune it is probable that the agricultural society may not hold another fair in the county.

Mr. Cady is pastor of a rich church at Geneseo. Many farmers in the vicinity of that town attended the Henry county fair and on every corner and every side were wheels of fortune. They were induced to "buck the tiger" and of course they were fleeced to a finish.

The matter reached the ears of the pastor, who by the way never was a special friend to lawbreakers, and he swore out warrants for five of the operators of the gambling machines. The fines the operators were obliged to pay footed up to $350.

The fair management is bitter in its denunciation of Mr. Cady as they claim that without the sale of gambling licenses it will be impossible to hold another fair. The preacher replies that if the fair cannot live except it license crime then the people of Henry county will gladly bid goodbye to the annual exhibition.

The matter is yet unsettled as the preacher has not played his best card as yet. He threatens to cause the arrest of the managers of the fair, leading men of the county, who sold the gambling permits. They are equally guilty with the men who beguiled the farmer out of his money and Mr. Cady declares they must be punished.

SOME CONSULAR PLACES.

Senator Burrows Thinks Michigan
Deserves More Pile.

Detroit Free Press: In the state department the Michigan senators have been recognized to the extent of the acceptance by Acting Secretary Day of nominations for the consular places now held down by Michigan men. Sarnia, Ont., which is the most important Canadian consulate from the Michigan standpoint, will go to J. Wright Giddings of Cadillac, vice Arthur M. Clark, of Lexington, and ex-Representative Chester W. Martin of Gratiot county, will succeed John Patton of Detroit as consul at Amherstburg.

Senator Burrows is anxious that Michigan should be recognized in some first class foreign consular post. He was much impressed with the recent bulletin of the state department, showing that Michigan has only about one-half of her proportion of consular places, with next to nothing in the desirable European field. The senator has decided to stay here and talk the matter over with the president, but will leave for home the latter part of the week, stopping long enough at Cleveland to make a speech for Senator Hanna at the widely-advertised meeting next Monday night.

Michigan Inventors.

Michigan inventors granted patents: George T. Berryhill, Alpena, horse shoe; Antoine B. Du Pont, Detroit, electric trolley device; Joseph Hanson, Crystal Falls, magazine bolt gun; Levi Harris, Kalamazoo, railway crossing gate; Alfred F. Morgan, Belding, dish pan; George K. Munro, jr., Detroit, motor car, Nazareth Paquette, Petersburg, fracture apparatus; William H. Sharp, Fremont, snap hook.

BETTER THAN CREAMERY.

Praise for the Dairy Butter Sold by

Crisp & Barnes, the new butter dealers next to THE NEWS office, did a large business today. Customers who tested their butter invariably remarked, "It is better than creamery." And its 5 cents cheaper too.

THE WEATHER.

Continued fair and warm tonight and Friday.

GOOD STORY BUT UNTRUE.

The City Clerk Only Receives $50
Per Month.

The attorney who criticised the board of public works in last night's NEWS for paying City Clerk Chaddock $10 per month a clerk of the water board is in error. The clerk receives only $50 per month but the members of the board regardless of the point raised by the attorney claim that they have the power to hire and pay for what help they require.

Following is a letter from the chairman of the city finance committee on the subject.

EDITOR EVENING NEWS: In last night's issue of your paper there appeared an article in regard to the salary of our city clerk. As chairman of the city finance committee I wish to correct it. Whoever gave you the information was surely laboring under a wild delusion, or if he was sane, he must surely have desired to create a public sensation for I positively know that the clerk receives only $50 per month for all services rendered as city clerk, and clerk of the water board.

JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT.

Secretary Hollis Failed to Appear in Court Today.

Today was set for the hearing before Justice Graves of the action brought by Mrs. R. H. Burke, against Secretary Hollis, of the Benton Harbor Electric Railway & Transit company, to collect a board bill of $48.80. The plaintiff appeared in court with her attorney A. P. Cady, and a judgment by default was entered by the court in her favor. Mr. Hollis did not appear.

POTATO THIEVES.

Twelve Bushels Stolen From A.
Vanderbeck.

A. Vanderbeck, living on Highland avenue, has suffered considerable annoyance and loss from thieves who persist in visiting his potato patch. Last evening the unwelcome visitors paid his premises a call and carried away two bushels of potatoes which Mr. Vanderbeck had dug yesterday and left in a sack in the field. In all about 12 bushels of potatoes have been taken from Mr. Vanderbeck's premises.

Mr. Vanderbeck is justifiably much perplexed and he declares that he will guard his property in the future with a shotgun.

Prospect of Benton Harbor Getting
in the State Naval Militia.

The acquirement by the Michigan Naval militia of the battleship Yantic is hailed with joy by the Benton Harbor company of soldiers who are seeking admittance to the state naval forces.

The local company will begin drilling early next week. They have been advised by the secretary of the navy that all he could do to aid them to admittance to the state naval militia would cheerfully be done, and that as soon as they were given any encouragement from the state they should advise him and he would go to work.

AMONG THE CRIMINALS.

Fred Anderson, accused of stealing a bicycle owned by a man named Stewart, of Bainbridge township, was arraigned before Justice Cady this morning. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail. Anderson was arrested at Stevensville yesterday by Sheriff Ferguson. The wheel stolen by Anderson was worth $10. It was in default of a $15 fine and $7.50 costs that he was jailed. Cheaper to buy a wheel.

ASOARRAGA'S MINISTRY RESIGNS,

Leaving the Field in All Probability to the Liberals Under Senor Sagasta—Was the Expected Happening and Diplomats Are Not Surprised—Liberal Government Likely To Be a Good Thing for the Cuban Rebels, Had for Weyler.

Madrid, Sept. 30.—The Spanish cabinet has resigned. The queen has accepted the cabinet's resignation, but has asked General Ascarra to continue in office until a solution of the crisis is found. Her majesty will summon the leaders of the various parties and the presidents of the chambers today to consult as to the situation. Senor Sagasta has been telegraphed for, and it is believed that the Liberal leader will be asked to form a cabinet. The ministry whose resignation has just been announced had General Marcello de Azcarra for prime minister. United States Minister Woodford, the Duke of Tetuan and the president of the senate held a long conference yesterday, and General Woodford presented to General Azcarra the members of the United States legation. Owing to the cabinet crisis the Cuban pour parlars have been postponed.

Not a Surprise at Washington.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The news of the Spanish cabinet crisis cannot be said to have caused surprise among the officials of the state department, or among the members of the diplomatic corps in Washington. As to what is to follow the resignation of the cabinet officials here are completely in the dark. Secretary Sherman does not believe that it will materially affect the relations of Spain either to the United States or to Cuba, which seems to indicate an expectation on his part that when the cabinet is reorganized it will be found to be still of a Conservative tendency. On the other hand high officials in the administration expect that a Liberal cabinet under the leadership of the veteran Sagasta will be erected on the ruins of the Azcarra cabinet. If this should be the case the future is held to be full of promise for Cuba.

What the Diplomats Think.

Among the diplomatic officials the resignation of the Spanish cabinet excited the keenest interest and was the chief topic throughout the evening. The Spanish minister left at 4 o'clock for Lenox about an hour before the first word of the resignations had been received. The ministry, it was explained by diplomatic officials entirely familiar with the facts, is Conservative throughout. It was chosen after the assassination of Canovas and was regarded as a continuance of the Canovas regime. At the time of its selection it was considered temporary, as the queen regent was then at San Sebastian without that opportunity of full conference with leaders, including the leader of the opposition, which takes place on the formation of a new cabinet. For this reason the resignations are not entirely unexpected, although they were not considered imminent at this time.

Think Sagasta the Coming Man.

A strong impression prevails in diplomatic circles that Senor Sagasta, the eminent Liberal leader, will be called to form a cabinet. The Conservatives have a majority in the cortes at this time, so that the formation of a Sagasta cabinet would necessitate a dissolution of the cortes, and an appeal to the country. There is said to be little doubt that this would result in the return of a heavy Liberal majority. But whether it be Sagasta or another the change is felt to entail important considerations on the Cuban policy. The present ministry has been an aggressive one, supporting General Weyler and refusing to accept his resignation, although a strong element at Madrid has urged a more lenient policy. The choice of Sagasta would undoubtedly, it is said, lead to the recall of General Weyler, and a material modification of the aggressive policy in Cuba.

Binetism as It Is in China.

Washington, Sept. 30.—United States Minister Chas. Denby, at Peking, writing to the state department under date of July 24, 1897, gives the substance of a report recently made by Mr. Brennan, a British consul, on trade in China. Brennan states that the currency of China is copper much more than silver, and that the relative value of gold and copper is an important factor in the consideration of trade problems. Brennan incloses a translation of an imperial decree in which it is shown that the price of copper cash has been enhanced over 20 per cent. at the same time that prices for ordinary articles of consumption are materially increased.

BIG POWER STATION IS DESTROYED

Fire So Hot That the Firemen Could Not Get Near Enough To Be Effective—Men Employed in the Building Had Barely Time to Save Themselves—Ironton, O., Comes Near Burning Up—Blaze Will Cost Her Perhaps $400,000.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Fire broke out in the central power station of the Capital Traction company a few minutes before 11 o'clock last night, and in thirty minutes the magnificent six-story structure was doomed. The building occupies the entire block from Pennsylvania avenue to C street and from Thirteenth and One-Half street to Fourteenth. The blaze started on the southwest corner and despite the efforts of the entire fire department swept like wind through the great building. The heat was so intense that the men were driven from the adjoining streets. When it became evident that no efforts could save the power station the department turned its attention to the adjoining property, but the flames leaped across Fourteenth street on the east and attacked a row of three-story brick houses. So fearful was the heat that the firemen could not get within reach of the burning buildings. They were driven back foot by foot, until the streams from the hose pipes could not reach the fire.

Loss Is About a Million.

The entire fire department was on the scene, but so fierce was the conflagration that their efforts were futile. The power house was built four years ago, and besides containing the power plant of the Pennsylvania avenue lines of the Capital Traction company was occupied by dozens of offices. The walls began to fall by 12 o'clock and with the decreasing heat men were enabled to get to work on adjoining property. Several houses, however, had been gutted. It is impossible to state the loss. Approximately it will be about $400,000 on the building; about $300,000 on machinery and stored cars; while the losses sustained by tenants will amount to $200,000 more, making the total damage $1,000,000.

People Had to Jump for Life.

The fire started in the printing office of Harvey & Gettler. It had soon gained such headway that it was evident nothing could be saved and the alarm was sounded to the large force of men at work in the building. Many of them were compelled to jump from the windows, so rapidly did the flames progress. Within half an hour after the fire started the entire building was enveloped and the flames seemed to soar over 100 feet into the air. The falling of the heavy six-story walls shook the buildings for squares around. Joyce's large carriage factory, situated directly across from the traction company's building on Fourteenth street is one of the structures partially destroyed. There has been no report of lives lost, but the firemen suffered severely from the intense heat.

SCORCHER FOR AN OHIO TOWN.

Locomotive Saves the City Pumping Station—Help from Other Places.

Ironton, O., Sept. 30.—This city was threatened with destruction last night. At 7 p. m. the saw mill of Newman & Spencer was discovered on fire. Before the fire department reached the scene the flames had extended to the lumber yards. The fire soon also wiped out the mills and lumber yards of the Penn Lumber company. The fire soon threatened the water works, and word was sent to Catlettsburg. Ashland and Portsmouth for relief. About twenty families were soon rendered homeless, two business blocks on Second and Third streets and the St. Joseph's church, parochial schools and parsonage. Columbia hall and the Belfontin iron works were burned.

At 10 o'clock the supply houses and coal bins adjoining the city water building were demolished by a Norfolk and Western locomotive crew, using a block and tackle, and the pumping station was saved. The opportune arrival of the Ashland (Ky.) department with several thousand feet of hoses was a godsend to the city, and at 10:30 ten acres of blazing ruins were surrounded by lines of hose and the Catlettsburg, Ky., fire engine arrived by a special boat. This practically placed the fire under control, although the conflagration did not subside before morning. The large plant of Newman & Spanner, valued at $50,000, is insured for $20,000, but they carried no insurance on 8,000,000 feet of popular lumber, every plank of which went up in smoke.

The Penn Lumber company's plant was valued at $35,000. They carried $17,500 insurance on the property and $4,500 on 6,000,000 million feet of lumber, which was totally destroyed. In addition to these plants the residences of Henry Spanner, E. Cole, Mrs. G. Kurtz, Mrs. Hall, Henry Horn, S. Mackay, and Newman & Spanner's large office and warehouse were burned, and at least twenty more residences were more or less damaged by flames. With the exception of Newman & Spanner's warehouse and S. Mackay's property, all were insured. The loss is estimated at from $300,000 to $400,000, with hardly half that amount of insurance. "An area of three squares in length and two squares back from the river was entirely flame-swept. There were no casualties, but one man had an arm broken.

THE EVENING NEWS.

THIRD YEAR—NO. 618.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1897.

ONE CENT.

NOW TWO YEARS OLD.

The Evening News Celebrates the Second Anniversary of its Existence Today.

GROWTH OF A NEWSPAPER.

From the Least It Has Grown to the Greatest in Circulation and Advertising.

On September 30, 1895, two years ago today, the first issue of the new EVENING NEWS appeared. It was without circulation, and its advertising columns were but meagrely filled. In the two years it has grown in circulation until its list of daily subscribers is larger than the combined list, of any two other dailies in the county. The paper in this section it has often been charged that its phenomenal success was the result of its price. Such, however, is not the fact, for since the reduction of its neighbors it has gained in circulation at a surprising rate. Wherever the paper comes in contact and comparison with its neighbors THE NEWS makes new friends because of its special features and the fact that it prints all the news and that usually in advance of its contemporaries. The most important feature of the success of the paper, however, is that it is the representative of no "ring" or corporation but that it is published for the people in the interests of the people.

During the two years THE NEWS has been compelled to enlarge its size twice and with the coming of prosperous times it will make improvements that will be more radical than the introduction of a 1 cent paper in a field that the old-priced sheets claimed to fully cover and own.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week will occur the millinery opening of Miller & Hummiston, at Martin's Palace of Trade, St. Joseph.

created such a world-wide talk. The entire city will be one blaze of colored lights, and, while their majesties are at the viewing point reviewing their subjects as they pass by, a grand exhibition of set fireworks will take place. No less than six bands will take part in this mammoth parade and the whole ground covered will be no less than two miles of splendor.

Besides all this the first floral parade ever seen in Michigan will also be a feature of the three days. Upwards of one hundred handsome horses and carriages, gorgeously bedecked in oceans of flowers, will participate.

LIGHTS AND A FIGHT.

Merry War Between the Council and Niles Board.

NILES, Sept. 30.—The board of public works and the common council are at loggerheads over the placing of electric lights. The council ordered the board to place lights in a certain place and the latter body refused. The council ordered City Attorney Lambert to investigate the legality of the board and he has just rendered an opinion that the board is illegal.

The board was appointed under an ordinance passed in August, 1895, under a charter regulating fourth class cities which states that all previous ordinances which are inconsistent with the charter shall be repealed. Acting under this authority, Mayor F. W. Richter at the next council meeting will probably remove the obnoxious board and will appoint a new one. The present board is composed of five leading citizens and if they are let out a hot time is expected.

BRAVE GIRL.

Miss Ellen Horn of New Buffalo Seizes a Burglar's Whiskers.

NEW BUFFALO, Sept. 30.—Last Monday night Miss Ellen Horn, daughter of John Horn, living about two and one-half miles south of this village while sleeping alone in the lower part of the house, awoke about midnight and hearing a noise up stairs got up and going to the stair door called out receiving no answer returned to bed but hearing the noise again she went to the door opening into the sitting room where she encountered a man just coming down stairs, with a lighted lamp in one hand and a sand bag in the other. He wanted to know where "Bill" was and threatened to kill her if she did not tell, at the same time striking her on the head. She grabbed his whiskers which proved false. He continued striking her with the sand bag but she was so close to him that it was not serious. She then broke away and started up stairs to call her people he rushing for the door and escaped.

A search was made but he could not be found.

Miss Horn now has in her possession a full set of whiskers, sand bag and a life size portrait of the fellow stowed away in her brains for future use. The only thing missed is a watch chain.

It is possible that the burglar made a mistake in the houses and that William Baker's was the one he intended to visit, as Mr. Baker had recently made a sale of some property.

Miss Horn was sand bagged by a burglar about one year ago who entered their residence in the night but secured nothing.

Paine's Celery Compound Restores Health to Col. Frank G. Noyes.

There is a foolish, harmful notion among many elderly persons about the "inevitable feebleness of old age."

They make a serious mistake in thinking their rheumatism or their failure in strength an effect of old age instead of the sluggish circulation, impure blood and disordered nerves that are so quickly remedied by Paine's celery compound.

Col. Frank G. Noyes of Nashua, N. H., who was department commander G. A. R. in 1896, made no such mistake, and today he is a vigorous man of 60. He gives his carefully considered estimate of Paine's celery compound in the following letter:

Gentlemen—Several months ago a friend gave me a bottle of Paine's celery compound for my personal use. I was not then, and had not for some time prior, been in my customary vigor. The cause may have been that I had reached and was passing the climacteric of man's life, which comes frequently after one arrives at the age of 60. At all events, I felt stronger and more vigorous after I had used for a while this compound. Consequently I have taken it regularly since then, and have consumed six or eight bottles of it. I am glad to say that, so far as I can judge, I am as well as ever, strong and vigorous.

Sincerely, Frank G. Noyes.

The disheartening part of every vacation is that its good effects do not last.

The improved appetite and the encouraging gain in weight disappear as rapidly as the glow and tan from the cheeks. A vacation, with its change of scene and air, is undoubtedly a good thing, but it won't cure rheumatism, neuralgia, heart trouble, dyspepsia, nor any of those diseases that are deeply seated in the system.

Paine's celery compound will do what no mere rest or vacation can do.

A thoroughly worn-out, "unstrung" nervous condition, brought on by months, if not years, of heedless living, depends for renewed health on purified blood, regulated nerves, sound sleep and perfect assimilation of food—this is what Paine's celery compound never fails to do.

Cities and towns are full of men and women, back from their vacations, who feel even more discouraged than when they set out, because they find themselves slipping back to their old, sleepless, languid, nervous condition. Sitting in the sun is a good thing as far as it goes; but there is a world-wide difference between the sun-burned counterfeit appearance of health and the real purifying of the blood, and the genuine strengthening of the nerves that invariably follows the use of Paine's celery compound.

If you have thus far failed to get rid of nervousness, sleeplessness, heart palpitation, or impure blood, you have not yet used Paine's celery compound. What this greatest of all modern remedies has done may be learned from any physician of good standing, or from detailed accounts in the most authoritative medical journals of the country.

No remedy in the world ever had such an army of enthusiastic friends as Paine's celery compound, because no remedy ever made so many people well.

THE EVENING NEWS BUILDING.

Co or nearly so with its ad-takes two years for a newspaper to establish itself upon a business before the end of the first year. THE EVENING NEWS had reached the plane that the newspaper seeks, that of a profit over the expenditures. The first year of the life of the paper was marked by a fire that destroyed the plant and everything pertaining to the paper with the exception of the subscription lists. The hindrance to business caused by this misfortune was soon overcome and at the close of the second year THE EVENING NEWS has more readers, more advertisers and more friends than ever before.

The paper is now printed in a new building owned by the proprietors of THE NEWS, that was built expressly for newspaper purposes. The ground floor, 25x70 feet, is used as a business office and composing room, while the first newspaper press and folder, the engine and large boiler are located in the basement. The second story of the building is occupied by the Young Men's Christian association, while a slice off of the front of the basement is used as a barber shop. THE NEWS is the only daily paper in the county that owns its own building.

The success of THE EVENING NEWS is largely due to the fact that there was a break here for such a paper. The first issue was published at a time when the combined effort, if not the subsidized effort, of the other papers here, was bitterly against the rights of the citizens and in favor of a grasping corporation. The old papers preached indirectly that the city ought to pay damages because it dared to assert its rights on its own streets. THE NEWS took the side of the people, as any unprejudiced or unbribed paper would, and the citizens were not slow to appreciate the good work done. To what length the pass-bribed editors would have gone in defending a contract-breaking corporation, but for the appearance of THE EVENING NEWS, is not known. It can, however, be guessed.

BIG STREET FAIR.

Kalamazoo Will Give a Big Attraction Next Month.

The Kalamazoo Free Street Fair October 12, 13 and 14 will be the biggest thing that ever happened in this part of Michigan. Never before have such elaborate and extensive preparations been made for a celebration by the people of Kalamazoo city and county. Besides everything incident to an ordinary county fair, there will be many sensational, brilliant and attractive features, including the dazzling Mardi Gras and carnival. This feature will be the attraction on the first two nights of the fair when Kalamazoo will be one blaze of light and glory.

The coronation of the king and queen will take place on the evening of October 12, and will of itself be a grand sight, as the crowning will take place amid gorgeous robes, silver service and pomp unequalled. Their majesties will at once issue an edict proclaiming their wishes, calling for all loyal subjects to fall in line on the evening of October 13 and follow their beautiful chariot, "Kalamazoo, Michigan's brightest star," through the grand illuminated carnival pageant. They will then appoint their maids of honor, pages, guards, etc. The royal car will indeed be a wonder, 40 feet in length, towering skyward, one mass of gilding, scrolling and splendor, bedecked with jewels and occupied by their majesties, maids, guards and pages, all richly robed in costumes representing altogether hundreds of dollars, brilliantly illuminated with colored lights, calciums and effects, and followed by miles of almost equally gorgeous chariots. Grand indeed will be the sight; one never before attempted in this state, and that can only be conceived by those who have witnessed the wonderful productions of St. Louis, New Orleans or in old Italy. It is confidently expected that the parades on these two nights will equal if not excel those given last fall in Minneapolis, Minn., and which

TWO YEARS OLD.
Today THE EVENING NEWS begins the third year of its existence. In the newspaper world it is a common rule that the newspaper that lives two years has passed the experimental stage and has become established. Its possibilities for long future years are then greater than that of the old newspaper. It is needless to say that THE EVENING NEWS has passed the experimental stage and is true to the old rule. Its columns bulging with advertising and its presence everywhere in the county where newspapers are read there is need of no further evidence.
THE EVENING NEWS has met with phenomenal success and stands first in circulation and advertising among its rivals and imitators. Nothing so conclusively proves this fact to the outsider as the bitter abuse it has continually received from the old papers with which it came in competition. This abuse is an acknowledgment of the superiority of THE EVENING NEWS as a newspaper and a confession that misrepresentation is the only weapon that might stay the growth of THE NEWS. All these attacks have had the effect of the boomerang. The memory of the fire is still fresh in the minds of the people. The dirty and unscrupulous though unsuccessful endeavor to beat THE NEWS out of its insurance money is still remembered. In the face of affidavits from all the officers of the democratic campaign committee these paid-for editors, feeders on political corruption funds, asserted that THE NEWS tried to sell its influence to the silver cause for $200. But out of every attack of persecution and lying THE NEWS has emerged stronger in the regard and the confidence of the people.
THE EVENING NEWS starts out on the third year with brighter prospects than ever before. Its aim will be not to abuse the confidence of the people that it enjoys but to ever increase that confidence.

THE safe of the Benton Harbor Electric Railway & Transit company is in the custody of Mayor Bell. It has been in the mayor's keeping ever since the order of Judge Coolidge a week or more ago. BATTLE Creek Journal: The Rev. L. W. Earl of Benton Harbor, formerly of this city, is in town visiting his old friends by whom he is warmly greeted. He occupied the pulpit of the First M. E. church where he formerly officiated, on Sunday evening last and preached an able and interesting discourse, to a large congregation, upon invitation of the pastor the Rev. Dr. Denman.

THIS is the way the Dowagiac News rejoices over the fact that the Postal telegraph will operate along the line of the Benton Harbor railroad: Last night the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railroad, the new line just completed from Benton Harbor to Buchanan, let the contract for their telegraph service to the Postal company, thereby giving the Western Union a black eye. It is reported that the Postal company is slowly but surely eating a hole into their monopolistic rival, large enough to crawl into and do considerable damage on the inside. The business world seems to take rather kindly to the infant company, hoping that the rivalry will result in a merry war, resulting in reduced rates.

POLLY'S DANDER UP.

A bridal couple who put in several days recently taking in the sights of the capital enjoyed themselves immensely until the day preceding their departure. It then occurred to the bride that she had not called upon "dear Fanny," who had been her chum during her days at the seminary. Now, Fanny was still enjoying single blessedness, and this may have had something to do with the anxiety of the bride to call upon her maiden chum. George demurred feebly, but at last consented to pay a formal call. The bride dressed herself in a fetching gown and placed upon her saucy head a Parisian dream in the way of a hat. The hat was one of those indescribable creations of the milliner's art, a mass of flowers with a bird or two partially concealed in the foliage, so to speak.

The pair went gayly forth and in a hotel coupe were soon at the door of Fanny's residence. Their cards were taken and they were ushered into the drawing room. While awaiting the coming of her friend the bride's attention was attracted to a large cage containing a splendid parrot. She chirruped cooingly to the imprisoned bird and wished she might take him out of his cage and caress him. George remarked that he looked tame enough and suggested the opening of the door of the cage. Sniting action to the word, he opened the door and the released bird calmly walked forth and strutted about, blinking his beady eyes knowingly. The bride, with usual calls of "Poll, pretty Poll!" coaxed the bird toward her, and poll proceeded to climb up the rounds of the chair upon which the lady was sitting and perched herself upon the arm of the chair. The parrot uttered guttural cries of "Polly, Polly," this word seemingly comprising her entire vocabulary.

The bird accepted the caresses, and apparently all was serene, but without an instant's warning she uttered a scream of rage and flew at the lady's headgear, alighting fairly thereon, and then for a few minutes the air was filled with flying feathers and bits of flowers, while the atmosphere was fractured by screams from the bird. A discordant cry from the parrot. George attempted to come to the rescue and had his face badly scratched for his pains. The lady finally shook the bird loose from the flower garden she was wearing upon her hat and made one wild dash for the front door, followed closely by the bridegroom. Once on the pavement, they became somewhat composed and determined to return to their hotel to repair damages. They did not tarry long enough to see "dear Fanny."

The sudden wrath of the bird was evidently caused, George thought upon reflection during calmer moments, by the fact that amid the flowers in his wife's hat there nestled a stuffed Caroline parakeet, which the parrot took to be a real live rival and proceeded forthwith to demolish. The bride is now a thorough convert to the teachings of the Audubon society.—Washington Post.

W. C. HOVEY, 155 AND 157 PIPESTONE

There is no simple article which less is known by the average person than human hair as an article of commerce. It will doubtless surprise many when it is stated that the dealers in human hair goods do not depend on chance clippings here and there, but that there is a regular hair harvest that can always be relied upon. It is estimated that over 12,000,000 pounds of human hair are used annually in the civilized world for adorning the heads of women. In New York city alone over four tons of this class of goods are imported yearly.

"Not a little of the hair used in this country," said a New York dealer to the writer, "comes from the heads of American women, and it is fully as fine in shade and texture as the imported article. We had a big harvest during the craze that the fair sex had not long ago for having their hair cut short. Many thousands of women who then had their locks sheared have since bitterly regretted it, as in many instances their hair has grown so slowly that they have been compelled to wear a wig or a switch since the fashion changed. After the majority of women reach the age of 30 the hair seems to partially lose its vigor, and if cut it will not grow long again.

"Two-thirds of the ladies nowadays use false hair more or less. The decree of fashion, or the desire to conceal a defect or heighten a charm, is the reason of course. One woman, for instance, has a high forehead and wishes to reduce it in appearance. Another has worn off the front hair by continued frizzling and would like to conceal the fact. Both make use of a front or top piece, with a choice of many styles.

"Ladies' wigs cost from $20 to $200; half wigs, top pieces and switches from $10 to $50, according to quality.

"The largest supply of hair comes from Switzerland, Germany and the French provinces. There is a human hair market in Merlans, in the department of the lower Pyrenees, held every Friday. Hundreds of hair traders walk up and down the one street of the village, their shears dangling from their belts, and inspect the braids which the peasant girls, standing on the steps of the houses, let down for inspection. If a bargain is struck, the hair is cut and the money paid on the spot, the price varying from 60 cents to $5 in our money.

"A woman's hair may grow to the length of 6 feet, and I know a lady who has been offered and refused $500 for her crown of glory, which is over 6 feet long. A single female hair will bear up a weight of four ounces without breaking, but the hair thus heavily weighted must be dark brown, for blond hair breaks under a strain of 2½ ounces. There are some 2,000 importers, manufacturers and dealers in human hair in the United States.—Washington Star.

Valorous Cows.

The editor of the Condon (Or.) Globe saw a deed of cow valor that was worth recording as well as seeing. A herd of cattle, and among them two cows, accompanied by their calves, were grazing in tall dead grass when the calves became separated a little from the rest of the herd.

Just then two huge, hungry coyotes crept up through the grass, cut off the calves from the rest of the cattle and started in pursuit of them. After running about 200 yards the calves came to a high, five wire, barbed wire fence, and, being small, managed to get through it. On the other side of the fence was an open pasture.

The wolves quickly followed the calves through the fence and were rapidly running them down on the other side, when the two cow mothers discovered what was going on. Each uttered a loud bellow, hoisted her tail and started for the rescue.

It appeared to be a hopeless chase, for the wire fence intervened, and the cows were certainly much too large to get through it. They knew well enough that it was there, and could, besides, see it plainly, but both cows plunged together straight into it.

The watching editor, horrified, looked to see them hurled back, frightfully wounded, but instead one of the posts gave way under the onslaught, the wires sank down, and in another moment the mothers were on the pasture side of the fence, badly cut and bleeding, but still able to charge the wolves successfully and put them to flight.

Soon the cows were licking the rescued calves affectionately, and the coyotes were howling a disappointed duet from the summit of a knoll near by.

Cat Baskets.

Cat baskets are made especially for the convenient carrying of cats in traveling, and they are also used to some extent for small dogs. Those of American manufacture are made of whole willow and are oblong in shape. Cat baskets imported from Germany are rather more costly, and are made of split willow. The German cat basket is oval in form, made larger at the top than at the bottom, and with the top finished rounding. There is in the side of the basket a grated door of willow rods, which opens on hinges and gives the cat light and air. In each end of the basket, higher up than the door, there is a small square window.

Cat baskets are made in various sizes, and in the course of a year there are sold a considerable number of them.—New York Sun.

WHEN EXPERTS DIFFER

What Will the Jury in the Luetgert Wife-Murder Case Be Likely to Decide?

DORSEY'S BONEOLOGY ASSAILED.

What He Claimed To Be from a Woman
Dr. Allport Is Positive Is from a Hog—Actual Experiments Show That Part of the Bone Produced by the State
Is Destroyed in the Vat—Prof. Long's Important and Interesting Testimony.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Hog or human?
This is the issue in the Luetgert case at present. The defense proved yesterday that the bone which Dr. Dorsey, the osteologist of the Columbian museum, declared was the femur of a human being, of a woman, and of a woman delicate in physical structure, as was Mrs.
Luetgert, is nothing but the bone of a hog. It came from a hog of delicate organization, so said the expert for the defense, but it was nothing but hog, for all that. The femur was rather small for the usual run of hogs, but this was a small-boned hog, and there was no doubt of the origin of the bone. The witness who declared all this for the defense was Dr. W. H. Allport, professor of descriptive and comparative anatomy in the Northwestern University.

Was a Very Positive Witness.
He declared in the most positive manner that the femur was that of a hog, and that there was no chance of his being mistaken in the matter. Dr. Dorsey, who declared for the state that the femur was that of a woman, was in the court room when Dr. Allport was on the stand, and his face flushed when the expert for the defense declared that the bone came from a hog. He will take the stand when the time comes for the state to offer its evidence in rebuttal and insist to the jury that the femur is not that of a hog but of a human being, of a woman, and of a woman of delicate physical organization. The declaration of Allport clearly defines the issue between himself and Dorsey. They are the respective leading experts of the defense and prosecution. Both pride themselves upon their reputations, and a battle royal will be the result.

Draws Pictures of the Bones.
Dr. Allport drew pictures of what he said represented the human femur and the hog's femur, and explained to the jury the difference between them. The difference was principally in the socket of the hip joint, according to the witness. He declared that the knob, or joint, end of the femur in evidence was much smaller than that of the average person, and that undoubtedly the bone was the femur of a small-boned hog.
Allport will be cross-examined after he has testified further concerning metacarpal, sesamoid and temporal bones.
J. A. Welsner gave evidence in support of Dr. Dorsey's testimony in connection with the experiments with human bodies made in the vats in the Luetgert factory early in the present month. His testimony was of a corroborative character.

Cross-Examination of Dorsey.
Dr. Dorsey was cross-examined and the state got little satisfaction from him.
He admitted that one little bone of the defense might have been subjected to the action of a solution of potash, but as to the others declared his belief that they had never been. He believed as he did as the result of a hundred or so experiments he had made to ascertain facts of this kind. He showed that in his actual experiments—not by inference like the alleged boiling of Mrs. Luet-gert's body—the very parts of the bones that the state introduced were the parts that were dissolved—the ends, the articu-lations. The bone he admitted might have been subjected to a potash solution was a metacarpal bone, but he said it was not such a solution as the Luetgert vat contained. The state has a rib with the articulation complete, and this bone Dorsey declared had never been in such a solution.

NO HUMAN BLOOD FOUND.

Prof. Long Makes Holes in a Couple of the Claims of the Prosecution.

Professor John H. Long, of the Northwestern university, took the stand. His silvered hair, well trimmed beard, and learned countenance made him a striking figure. He had assisted at the dissolution of two human corpses in the Luetgert vat. His testimony at first was corroborative of that of Dr. Dorsey.
He was asked: "What was the character of the liquid which was left after that experiment?" For reply the expert stepped to the lawyers' table. He picked up a large bottle containing a light colored fluid with a slight foam upon the top of it. He stepped back to the stand.
"This," he said, "holding aloft the bottle, contains a specimen of the liquid which was taken from the vat after the body had been immersed for three and one-half hours."

The expert took up another of those long necked bottles. "This bottle," he said, "contains the liquid which was taken from the vat on Sunday morning after the body had been turned into the vat for ten hours." Other bottles were exhibited containing liquid taken at various stages of the experiment. All were of the same light color. They looked like weak tea, as Dr. Dorsey had stated. The solution was totally different in color, accordingly, from the brownish red liquid which the police officers had taken from the factory vat.
"State whether you believe such a liquid as you received from Professor Delafontaine could have come from the destruction of a human body." The answer was an emphatic "No."

After Professor Long had given the jury a long and technical explanation of spectrums obtained from the state's vat fluid he was asked to explain the making of soft soap, which he did and stated that as the result of an incomplete action of the alkali "There would be a mass of soft soap and divided fats."
The attorney was citing circumstances which the defense claims are parallel to those attending Luetgert's alleged unsuccessful attempt to make soft soap the night of May 1. The witness added that the resulting liquid would resemble that produced by the state.

Then came the contradiction of one of the state's strong points. The state claimed that the bone which was found in the vat was the bone of a woman.

C. & J. SCHERER

111 W. Main St., We Always Lead Benton Harbor.

Mrs. Luetgert's false teeth. Professor Long said the potash itself and other ingredients contain aluminum. It would be possible to make six such aluminum plates from 378 pounds of potash. He said it would be--was--impossible to bring the liquid in the vat to a boiling point at Luetgert's factory.

The court leaned toward and took a hand in the examination. He intimated that he believed after the connecting pipes became well heated it would be possible to reach at least the boiling point. "Is your honor testifying in this case?" demanded Attorney Vincent, while the spectators laughed.
"No, I am not," replied the court, with considerable spirit. "I am talking to you." The lawyer took exception to the court's remark, but was overruled.
The next strong point made was when the professor asserted that the liquid in which the defense had actually boiled a human body showed no traces of alkaline hematin, which would have indicated the presence of human blood.
Professor Delafontaine had sworn for the state that he had found traces of alkaline hematin in the original vat solution. The defense wanted to prove this by the spectroscopic, but the judge would not permit it to be done.

DOING BUSINESS IN EUROPE.

Americans Building Engines for Use in London and Dublin.

Milwaukee, Sept. 30.—The Rollance works of the E. P. Allis company, of this city, have closed contracts for foreign orders aggregating $500,000. Twenty-one engines of an average horsepower of 1,200 each are to be built for foreign trade. Six engines of 1,500 horsepower each, are being built for the Central London Underground railway, a new electric road in London. Six have been ordered for Dublin tramways, which will furnish 1,000 horsepower each to propel electric cars over the old tramway.

Three engines of 1,500 horsepower will enable the Barcelona authorities to put electric cars on their tramways. Two duplicate engines will be sent to Madrid, Spain, for the tramways there.
From Sydney, New South Wales, has come an order for four engines of 1,500 horsepower each, for the Sydney tramways.

BOSTON STILL IN THE LEAD.

Only Has to Win Her Brooklyn Series to Win the Pennant.

Brooklyn, Sept. 30.—The Boston and Brooklyn began a series of three games at Eastern park yesterday afternoon on which much depends for both teams.
Winning all the games will give Boston
the championship, no matter what Baltimore does. A majority of the games for Brooklyn means a clinch on the only place still left in the first division—sixth.
The management had planned to handle a large crowd, but the cranks failed to materialize, and when the game began only about 3,600 persons were present, and they saw the "Bean Eaters" capture the game with ease.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—League base ball scores yesterday were: At Brooklyn—
Boston 12, Brooklyn 4; at Baltimore—Washington 3, Baltimore 6; at New York
—Philadelphia 1, New York 7.

Mrs. Ida Parks will have her grand millinery opening next Wednesday at 121 W. Main St.

THE COMPLIMENT

Last Night's Entertainment at the Benton Harbor College.

The entertainment at Conkey's opera house last evening went far toward recommending the elocutionary and musical departments of the Benton Harbor college. It demonstrated that these departments are in charge of talented and gifted instructors and that the pupils are receiving the best of instruction.

The entertainment was given by Miss Myrtle Moss Mericle, the accomplished teacher of elocution, and Mrs. F. A. Webb and Miss Fannie J. Collins, respectively vocal and piano instructors in the musical department. It was a rare treat to devotees of the fine art and a more pleased or delighted audience rarely assembled.

The program opened with a piano solo, a composition of Leschetizky's, executed by Miss Collins. She was greeted with the college yell from the throats of 200 students who occupied a section on the north side of the room. Her work was a perfect portrayal of the author's conception and elicited an ovation from the audience.

She was followed by Mrs. Webb with a vocal number, Parla by Ardit, and the sweet, tenderly modulated voice, hushed the auditors into a silence that spoke in appreciation of the effect more than words could have expressed. When she returned to bow acknowledgment to the encore a beautiful bouquet of roses was handed her.

Miss Mericle then appeared. Her popularity was attested by the enthusiastic applause accompanying her appearance. She gave the reading, "Helene Tharnie," by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, and before she had finished the pathetic story, so accurately acted out, had plunged many in tears. She also was the recipient of flowers.

The Gypsy song by Miss Helen Webb, attired in Gypsy costume, received its share of applause. Her reappearance was invited so enthusiastically that she could not decline and the audience heard her sing again.

To the close of the program the audience maintained its enthusiasm and reluctantly left the hall when the entertainment was concluded.

AT THE COURT HOUSE.

The circuit court calendar for the October term was delivered to the printers by the clerk today. There are 100 cases, 27 of which are criminal and the remainder law and chancery. The criminal cases have already been published by THE NEWS as well as the most important of the other cases.

The indigent soldiers' commission, composed of W. F. Bullard of Niles, Cass Schoutz of New Buffalo and A. H. Rowe, of Benton Harbor, met this morning at 11 o'clock in the office of the probate judge. The auditing of bills and the consideration of matters pertaining to the welfare of destitute war veterans is occupying the time of the commission.

The schooner Alert, which became water logged eight miles off this port two weeks ago, and off of which Charles and Arthur Stone, her crew, were rescued by the life saving crew, cleared last night for Michigan city. She was leaking badly and there is some doubt of her being able to reach that port.

J. Hatch, of Lansing, employed in the office of Auditor General Dix, is in the city the guest of his brother, E. N. Hatch.

The farm residence of John Luckner, several miles out on Lincoln avenue, was burned to the ground yesterday afternoon. There was only a small insurance on the property. There is no theory as to how the fire originated. None of the family were at home when the flames broke out, Mrs. Luckner being in the field with her husband. She discovered the fire while returning home. The only articles of furniture saved were a stove and several pictures. Mr. Luckner is a brother of Fred Luckner, a meat dealer of this city.

UNFAITHFULNESS.

The Charge Made by Charles Rutledge Against His Wife.

Charles S. Rutledge, of St. Joseph, a jeweler by occupation, has filed a bill in the circuit court asking that his marriage with Millie M. Rutledge be dissolved. They were married June 28, 1895. Since then, the complainant alleges, he has suffered untold abuse and injury. He charges his wife with being a woman of great austerity of temper and of being unwarrantably jealous of him; that she accused him of unfaithfulness and her conduct tended to disgrace him and ruin his business. It is further charged against the wife that she has been living in adultery with a man in the eastern part of the state.

ST. JOSEPH.

It was customary in the family of George Washington to shut up unused for two years a room in which death had occurred, says an exchange. So, after the death of the first president in the stately chamber with the great four poster bed which is still shown to visitors, Martha Washington, with her lonely heart, nightly climbed the attic stairs to lie in a low ceiled, sloping roofed room with one window—a room intolerably hot in summer, with little or no means of securing a draft except by a triangular opening where the lower corner of the door had been cut off to make room for the passage of the cat. Martha Washington died before the two year period had ended.

If she had occupied the death chamber, would she have seen the ghost of her dead husband? They say that the stalwart, stately figure of the brave general stalks through the passage with martial tread and clank of astral sword in spectral scabbard.

Again and again it has happened that people detained at Mount Vernon on the business of the Mount Vernon association have declared, on "waking from a sleepless night," that they had heard the ghost's sword and stride and seen its tall, commanding figure, dressed in the old uniform that in life it wore.

No lights are permitted in the old house, for fear of fire, except during the meeting of the regents, and then only candles. Ghosts are said to love dark or ill lighted houses.

Most Wonderful Cave in the World.

The most wonderful cave in the world is in the island of Tonga, in the south Pacific. Byron called it "a chapel of the seas." It is formed in a rock that is almost surrounded by the ocean. This rock is about 60 feet high and broad proportionately.

Many years ago a boy, the son of a native chief, was chasing a huge turtle, when his game seemed to sink into the rock. The lad watched and waited until the tide fell, disclosing a small opening in the rock about six feet under low water mark.

Diving boldly, the young hunter entered the aperture, and, to his surprise, came to the surface inside the rock. The rock was hollow, and its interior was found afterward, when the natives explored it with torches, to contain many beautiful stalactites.

When attacked and followed by enemies, the natives, who know the secret, leave their canoes, plunge into the water and disappear. Their foes linger, astonished at their disappearance, for no person not acquainted with it would suspect that the rock was hollow.—London Telegraph.
